The MNB, acting within its macro-prudential function, may order the credit institution to apply - in determining the institution-specific countercyclical capital buffer - the higher countercyclical capital buffer rate it has set in respect of its exposures to counterparties located in the third country in question.

b) may allocate a credit institution that has an overall score that is lower than the cut-off score of the lowest sub-category to that sub-category or to a higher sub-category, thereby designating it as a global systemically important credit institution.

Section 90

(1) Other systemically important credit institutions are required to maintain capital buffer - as provided for in the MNB Act - for an other systemically important credit institution on an individual, sub-consolidated or consolidated basis in addition to the capital requirement imposed by Article 92 of Regulation 575/2013/EU, and to the capital conservation buffer, countercyclical capital buffer and the extra capital requirement imposed in the framework of a supervisory review.

(1)²⁷² OBA members shall be liable to pay annual fees comprising:

- a) a minimum charge, and
- b) a risk-based variable-rate fee.

(1a)²⁷³ The minimum charge payable by OBA members shall be determined by taking into account the amount - up to the extent covered by the compensation scheme - of deposits carried by the credit institution insured by the OBA - in accordance with Sections 212 and 213 - on 31 December of the previous year, and the credit institution's membership in a voluntary deposit insurance fund. In providing supplementary cover, the amount of the deposits for which supplementary cover is provided shall be taken into consideration when determining the annual fee, along with the cover afforded by the deposit guarantee scheme of the country in which the branch's home office is located.

(1b)²⁷⁴ The risk-based variable-rate fee payable by OBA members shall be determined taking into account the following:

- a) the credit institution's capital base;
- b) the credit institution's liquidity and financial condition;
- c) the quality of the credit institution's assets;

(1c)²⁷⁵ In determining the risk-based variable-rate fee the credit institution's membership in the institutional protection scheme provided for in Article 113(7) of Regulation 575/2013/EU may be taken into consideration, as well as belonging to a low-risk sector as an additional risk element within the meaning of Paragraph d) of Subsection (1b).

(1d)²⁷⁶ The detailed rules for determining the risk-based variable-rate fee shall be decreed by the Governor of the MNB.

(1e)²⁷⁷ The OBA shall inform the EBA concerning the rules adopted for determining the risk-based variable-rate fee.

(2)²⁷⁸ The amount of the annual fee to be paid as determined pursuant to Subsection (1) may not be higher than 0.3 per cent of the amount, up to the limit covered by the compensation scheme, (hereinafter referred to as “chargeable amount”):

a) of the deposits insured by the OBA and kept with the member institution on 31 December of the previous year,

b) of the total interest holdings indicated under accrued and deferred liabilities on deposits insured by the OBA and kept with the member institution on 31 December of the previous year and the deposits insured by the OBA as provided for by statutory provisions on the annual accounting and bookkeeping obligations of credit institutions.

(2a)²⁷⁹ In determining the chargeable amount the deposits of local governments need not be taken into consideration, as well as deposits of one hundred thousand euro or more, which are subject to a higher coverage level as defined in Section 214/A.

(3) Credit institutions shall pay the annual fee in quarterly installments, by the fifteenth day of the quarter to which it pertains to the payment account of the OBA.

(4) The amount of the fee to be paid by the credit institution shall be determined on the basis of the declarations forwarded by the credit institution to the OBA in the form and at the date described in the rules and regulations of the OBA.

(5) The fee to be paid by the credit institution for the year when receiving authorization for banking operations shall be determined, according to the general rules, by multiplying 1/365 of the annual fee determined based on the deposit holdings at the end of the year with the number of days insured by the OBA.

(6) If a credit institution is engaged in high-risk activities justifying an increase in the fee according to the regulations, the OBA may increase the fee to be paid by the credit institution in the course of the year. Prior to increasing the fee, the OBA shall:

a) request the opinion of the MNB acting within its central banking duties and the Authority, and

b) allow the credit institution to submit its comments.

(7) The fee increased as under Subsection (6) may not exceed three thousandths of the credit institution’s insured deposit holdings as of 31 December of the previous year.

(8)²⁸⁰ In the interest of repaying the loan taken out by the OBA under Subsection (2) of Section 232 and for redemption of the bonds issued under Subsection (3) of Section 232 the OBA may prescribe extraordinary ex-post contributions - in addition to the annual contributions provided for in Subsection (1) hereof - for credit institutions determined on the basis of uniform principles, and the extent and schedule of such payment obligation must be adjusted to the conditions of loan repayment. The annual amount that can be raised - over and above the amount of contributions determined in accordance with Subsection (2) - through ex-post contributions may not exceed 0.5 per cent of the chargeable amount in respect of any credit institution. If the amount borrowed by the OBA or the amount of its bond issue exceeds 0.8 per cent of the deposits to be compensated, it may require higher contributions with the consent of the Authority.

(8a)²⁸¹ If the obligation to pay extraordinary ex-post contributions prescribed under Subsection (8) would jeopardize the liquidity or solvency of a credit institution, the Authority may defer, in (8b)²⁸³ In ordering extraordinary ex-post contributions the risk category used for calculating the last annual fee shall be applied.

(9)²⁸⁴ Where the OBA gains any income in connection with the events that prompted the OBA to take out the loan or to issue the bonds, it shall - on general principle - be used to reduce the existing loan debt or bond liabilities and thereafter to reduce the extra payment obligation of the credit institutions and to repay the same.

(10) In the initial year of its dissolution or liquidation, the credit institution must pay the prorated annual fee in accordance with the provisions described in this Section for the period up to the day of the opening of the liquidation or dissolution proceeding. The fee shall be calculated based on the last payment made before the liquidation or dissolution was ordered, projected on the basis of the insured deposit holdings.

*Section 234/A*²⁸⁵

(1) The obligation of OBA members to pay annual fees shall be determined so as to ensure that, by 3 July 2024, the available financial means of the OBA shall at least reach 0.8 per cent of the amount of the covered deposits of its members (target level).

(2) If, after the target level provided for in Subsection (1) has been reached the available financial means of the OBA have been reduced to less than two-thirds of the target level upon the payment of compensation, OBA shall set the annual payment of contribution at a level allowing the target level under Subsection (1) to be reached within six years.

(3)²⁸⁶ The obligation of OBA members to pay annual contribution shall be spread out in time as evenly as possible until the target level provided for in Subsection (1) is reached, but with due account of the phase of the business cycle and the impact pro-cyclical contributions may have on the financial position of contributing credit institutions.

99. Accounting of fees received

Section 235

Credit institutions shall show the amount paid to the OBA (including the affiliation fee) under other operating charges.

100. Joining the OBA

(Effective from September 18, 2016 through December 31, 2016)

Section 236

(1) Simultaneously with submitting the application for the activity license governed under Section 20, the credit institution shall also send a letter of intent of admission to the OBA and enclose a copy of such declaration to the application for activity license, unless the credit institution is incorporated as a branch and it is not required to join the OBA pursuant to Subsection (3) of Section 209.

(2) The letter of intent of admission shall be prepared in the form as published by the OBA.

101. Initiating actions and sanctions, termination of membership in the OBA

(1) Where a credit institution:

a) fails to fulfill the payment obligations described in Sections 233-234 in due time;

c) violates the regulations on information requirements relating to deposit insurance;

d) has records from which the depositors' entitlement to indemnity cannot be unambiguously determined; or

e) breaches the regulations on deposit insurance;

the OBA shall advise the credit institution to cease the unlawful conduct and shall simultaneously inform the Authority thereof.

(2) If the credit institution fails to cease the unlawful conduct referred to in Subsection (1) after a period of thirty days following the warning, the OBA may request the Authority to take action against the credit institution, impose a fine upon it, or, with the assent of the Authority, terminate the credit institution's membership after a period of twelve months from the date of announcement of the pertinent measures if the credit institution continues to carry on the unlawful conduct during this time.

(3) In the case of moving for exclusion, the credit institution's membership in the OBA shall be terminated after the date specified in the advance notice, unless the credit institution has taken the actions aimed at conforming to regulations or terminating an improper conduct.

Section 238

The membership of a credit institution in the OBA shall be terminated if the credit institution is no longer permitted to take deposits by decision of the Authority.

Section 239

(1) Subject to the exception set out in Subsection (4), the exclusion of a credit institution or termination of its membership shall not effect the insurance of deposits placed with the credit institution during the period of its membership.

(Effective from September 18, 2016 through December 31, 2016)

(2)²⁸⁷ If a credit institution has been excluded from the OBA or its membership has been terminated voluntarily or otherwise, it may not request a refund of its earlier payments, save where Subsection (5) applies. The exclusion or the termination of membership, voluntarily or otherwise, shall not effect the obligation of the excluded credit institution to pay the annual fee on the insured deposits as described in Section 234.

(3) A credit institution, when increasing or decreasing its subscribed capital, shall not be required to pay an affiliation fee on the amount of increase, and may not request the prorated portion of the paid affiliation fee to be refunded.

(4) The OBA - following termination of the membership of a credit institution - shall not pay compensation for any deposit that is covered by any foreign deposit guarantee scheme.

(5)²⁸⁸ If a credit institution ceases to be member of the OBA and joins the deposit guarantee scheme of another EEA Member State, the contributions paid during the twelve months preceding the end of the membership, with the exception of the extraordinary contributions under Subsection (8) of Section 234, shall be transferred to the deposit guarantee scheme of that other EEA Member State. If a credit institution transfers its client accounts to a credit institution established in another EEA Member State, the contributions of that credit institution paid during the twelve months preceding the transfer, with the exception of the extraordinary contributions under Subsection (8) of Section 234, shall be transferred to the deposit guarantee scheme of that other EEA Member State in proportion to the amount of covered deposits transferred.

(6)²⁸⁹ If a credit institution intends to transfer to the deposit guarantee scheme of another EEA Member State, it shall give at least six months' notice to the OBA of its intention to do so. During that period, the credit institution shall remain under the obligation to contribute in accordance with Section 234.

Section 240

In the case of exclusion under Section 237, the OBA shall notify the Authority in writing - within twenty four hours - about the exclusion and the reasons therefor, and shall publish a notice thereof within forty-eight hours in at least two daily newspapers of nationwide circulation.
